ABSTRACT

Representing a continuing effort to document and track legislative activity on issues critical to families, this publication provides a compilation of brief summaries of all legislation enacted up to the end of August, 1989 by 48 states and Puerto Rico. Included are bills covering 16 major public policy topics related to children, youth, and families. The topics are: abuse and neglect; child care/early childhood education; child health; child mental health; child support enforcement; child welfare; custody and visitation; domestic violence; family law; general childrer, youth, and family administration and organization; juvenile justice; kidnapping or missing children; public assistance; substance abuse and control; teenage pregnancy; and youth at risk. Excepting preschool education, education issues are not included unless they are related to other topic areas, such as teen pregnancy and substance abuse. No legislation from Kentucky is included, since that state's legislature did not meet in regular session during the year. Legislation passed or signed into law after August 30, 1989, or not received by the National Conference of State Legislatures prior to that date, is not announced. States affected by this limit are California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. Included in the publication is a glossary of acronyms and a state-by-state list of enacted legislation that organizes the bills by state, topic, and bill number. (RH)

FOREWORD

The National Conference of State Legislatures presents the 1989 State Legislative Summary: Children, Youth, and Family Issues as the seventh publication in a series that annually summarizes major children, youth, and family laws passed by the 54 jurisdictions each year.

The summary represents a continuing effort by the Children, Youth, and Families Program at the National Conference of State Legislatures to offer a unique service by documenting and tracking legislative activity on issues critical to families.

Legislation contained in the summary focuses on creating and sustaining positive family environments. The summary illustrates the states' responses to the increasing demand for human services including legislation in areas such as: child abuse and neglect, child care/early childhood education, child support enforcement, child welfare, custody and visitation, domestic violence, juvenile justice, substance abuse, teen pregnancy, and other areas that affect families.

We are proud of the broad range of services and expertise available through the Children, Youth, and Families Program staff and encourage you to make direct inquiries to the Denver office for additional information.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The NCSL Children, Youth, and Families Program staff sincerely appreciates the assistance of and input from all the states in producing this publication. It is only due to the promptness and thoroughness of the states' legislative staffs that NCSL is able to provide an accurate report of enacted legislation. The states' cooperation and interest in a quality product made the undertaking of the project rewarding.

CONTRIBUTORS

NCSL's Children, Youth, and Families Program staff compiled, researched, summarized, and edited laws from 49 states and Puerto Rico. Susan Biemesderfer, Heather Maggard, and Anne Sommerfeld, former CYF Program staff, and Joanne Ourada, Human Services Staff Assistant, each coordinated production at some point during the process. Mary Fairchild, Legislative Consultant, provided writing and editing assistance. Julie Lays, NCSL Assistant Editor, completed overall editing of the publication, and Paul Parsons provided word processing expertise.

INTRODUCTION

The National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) is pleased to present the seventh annual State Legislative Summary: Children, Youth, and Family Issues. This publication is a compilation of summaries of legislation enacted during the 1989 sessions by the states and Puerto Rico, with the exception of Kentucky. The state legislature in Kentucky did not have a regular session in 1989. Specific legislation is available through the NCSL Children, Youth, and Families Program or directly from the respective state legislative offices.

Due to the varied schedules for state legislative sessions, legislation passed or signed into law after August 30, 1989, or not received by NCSL prior to that date are not included. States affected are California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. Since these states operate year-round, legislation enacted after August 30, 1989, will be included in the 1990 summary.

Included in this summary are enacted bills covering 16 major public policy topics related to children, youth, and families. Education issues are not included unless they are related to other topic areas such as teen pregnancy and substance abuse. An exception is legislation related to preschool education, which is included in the Child Care/Early Childhood Education section. Child health and mental health issues are included but additional health legislation related to families will be provided in 1989 Health Care Legislation.

A state-by-state list of enacted legislation that organizes the bills by state, topic, and bill number for easy reference is included in the appendix.

The information provided in the summary was gathered by NCSL staff through direct requests from legislative staff. Each state's bills were analyzed, summarized, edited, and compiled according to major topics and sub-topics. A draft of the states' summary was then returned to legislative staffs for review and corrections. This summary is the result of a combined effort of the NCSL Children, Youth, and Families staff and the states' legislative staffs.

We appreciate your assistance in and comments on NCSL's efforts to provide the most complete and comprehensive legislative summary possible. If you have any suggestions or requests for further information, please call or write to NCSL's Children, Youth, and Families staff in the Denver office, (303) 623-7800.

Children, Youth, and Families Program

The Children, Youth, and Families Program of the National Conference of State Legislatures is designed to meet the needs of state legislatures in developing policy and programs related to children and families. The following services are available at no cost to legislators and staff:

- o information clearinghouse
- o publications
- o research assistance
- o technical assistance

Technical assistance includes testimony at committee hearings, briefing sessions for state legislators and their staffs, and bill drafting and analysis. Resources and expertise are provided by NCSL staff, national experts, and legislators.

Project Areas

Child Care/Early Childhood Education. Funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, the project facilitates coordinated policymaking for early childhood issues among legislators on education and social services committees. Issue areas include: employer-supported child care, licensing and regulation, child care in the public schools, welfare reform, funding of child care and early childhood education programs, resource and referral systems, public/private partnerships, program quality, child care for state employees, early childhood programs for special needs children.

Child Support Enforcement. With the passage of the 1988 Family Support Act, states will be required to strengthen laws for establishment and enforcement of child support and improve paternity establishment records. The project, under contract with the federal Office of Child Support Enforcement, answers information requests regarding issues that include child support enforcement, paternity establishment, enforcement techniques, welfare reform, guidelines, and custody and visitation.

Child Welfare. Funded by the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation and the Foundation for Child Development, this project assists state legislators in improving state child welfare systems serving children and families in crisis. Out-of-home placement is the most expensive form of service and contributes to trauma for the child and instability for the family. With increasing placements and costs, states are exploring service alternatives. Information is available on family preservation services, adoption, other placement alternatives, interagency coordination, financing child welfare services, and child abuse and neglect.

Community Development. Funded by the Ford and Charles Stewart Mott Foundations and the Foundation for State Legislatures, the project assists state legislatures in exploring methods for integrating the human services and economic development programs targeted towards distressed urban communities. The role of Community Development Corporations in tailoring housing, economic development, and social services programs to specific community needs will be stressed.
